ECLIPSE ART BOARDS IN SWANTON

Swanton, Vt, April 2, 2024: SPAN is excited to reveal its collection of five eclipse-themed art boards on public display in honor and celebration of next week's total solar eclipse. SPAN invites all residents, sky watchers, and eclipse enthusiasts to visit the art boards located at Swanton Beach, John's Bridge on Route 7, and at the Marble Mill overlook of the Missisquoi River. All are invited to Swanton, a central destination in the direct path of the eclipse's full totality, to witness our solar system's most spectacular celestial phenomena.

SPAN extends its gratitude to local artists who channeled their excitement to soon experience this convergence where the moon will fully obscure the sun on April 8, 2024, at approximately 3:26 p.m. as it travels directly over Swanton skies. Such a viewing is very rare for our location, perhaps even a once-in-a-lifetime event for most, with the next possibility in 2106. Contributing artists include but are not limited to: Priscilla and George Connelly, Bill and Michelle Nordberg, David Winchester, Ashley Drinkwater, Abigail Gaudette, Alison Boren, and Marie Speer.

SPAN invites all other creatives and artists of all ages to sign up to enjoy painting on a big canvas that will enhance and support public art. It is super easy to submit an annual agreement at span4art.org to start painting anytime in 2024.

To learn more about SPAN, for questions about the art board program, or to donate in support of public art, please visit span4art.org, visit and like our Facebook page, or send email to span4art@gmail.com.

We wish all a great day gathered with friends and family for our historic community even on April 8, 2024. All this information and more is located on span4art.org.
